WOMAN ASKS POLICE TO HELP SEARCH FOR MISSING HUSBAND

Eastland Man Left Home One Week Ago Today and Has Not Been Seen Or Heard of Since that Time, Wife Tells Officers.

Mrs. Laura Goodpaster, who lives near the Oklahoma school house, applied to Chief of Police James Mackey Tuesday morning for the assistance of the police department in locating her husband, who has been missing from his home, according to the wife, for the past week.

The woman said that her husband, who had been employed at the Mayville Cotton Mills, was seeking other employment but had failed to find the same and they had determined to visit her relatives in Bracken county. They were to make the trip in a horse and buggy and the husband left his home last Tuesday to borrow a buggy in which to make the trip. He failed to return home in a reasonable length of time and she began an investigation but was unable to learn anything about him.

The missing husband is about 26 years of age while his wife is many years his senior. She says they had no trouble and she fears that the young husband has met with some foul play. Officers have been investigating today and they have thus far been unable to shed any light on the mysterious disappearance of the young man.

CHRISTIAN HOME IS DISCUSSED BY EVANGELIST

Protracted Revival at Big Tent Continues to Attract Large Audiences At Each Service Every Day.

"A Christian Home" was the subject of the sermon, Monday night at the tent. The lesson was taken from the tenth chapter of Acts. The speaker said in part:

"There are eight reasons for believing that Cornelius was a converted man before Peter went to his home for prayer. How do the evidences of salvation in our lives compare with these? (1) Cornelius was a devout man, devoted to his God, his country and his family. (2) He feared God with all his house, or he was the head of a Christian family. (3) He gave a tenth of his money to the Lord, or that is his house, or he was the head of a Christian family. (4) His home was a home of prayer. (5) He lived a life of prayer. How many of us have family altars, or say grace at the table? (6) Many people say prayers but God witnessed that He answered the prayers of Cornelius. (7) This man fasted and prayed a good part of the day. People of this day and age are feasting and playing, rather than fasting and praying. (8) Still another evidence that Cornelius was a converted man, was that he was delighted when God sent a righteous man to him to pray, that he would have a deeper experience. With these evidences of the kind of life that Cornelius lived can we say that he was not a converted man? But if he was a converted man why did God send Peter to pray with him? Because Cornelius needed a deeper Christian experience."

Special music by the workers, was enjoyed by all who attended service Monday night.

Next Thursday night will be "Family Night" at the tent. All the members of families are requested to come and sit together and a prize will be given to the large family present.

Special music will be an important feature.

35 ENTERED IN RACE FOR CONGRESSIONAL RACE

Ninth District Has Three Democrats and Three Republicans Contesting For the Nominations.

The congressional lists are complete. Time for filing for the August primary ended Monday midnight.

Vernon Richardson, of Danville, and the eighteenth Republican, Dr. D. H. Kin-kaid of the same city, did not arrive in Frankfort with their declaration papers until after 10 o'clock.

In this, the Ninth Congressional district, the race in both parties is a three cornered fight. In the Democratic column there will be W. J. Fields, of Olive Hill, the incumbent, Judge W. T. Cole, of Greenup, and Representative H. C. Duffy, of Cynthiana. Seeking the Republican nomination is found Trumbo Snedegar, of Wyoming, George Osborn, of Russell, and J. H. Stricklin, of Insko.

GOING ON A VACATION?

If you are going on that vacation you had better 'phone the Ledger office and let us send the Ledger along with you. It will follow you to any part of the country and be on hand every day to tell you everything worthwhile about the doings in "the village." It won't cost much and will be the best money you will spend on your vacation trip.

Let us tell you about the cost of sending the Ledger along as your daily informant on the home town news. Telephone No. 40. We will change your address when you tell us to on a post card.

The Ledger may not be the biggest paper in Maysville, nor is it the highest priced but when it comes to local news, we rank up front.

INFANT AUTO DRIVERS

Police have notified the owners of automobiles in Maysville who have been in the habit of permitting their children to drive their cars carelessly about the city that the section of the state statute which prohibits the operation of a motor car by an infant under sixteen years of age, unless accompanied by either his mother or father, is to be enforced.

We believe the law is a good one and should be enforced. Children under sixteen years of age have no business handling so dangerous a piece of machinery as an automobile by themselves. There may be children under the 16 year age limit who are as careful drivers as those over that age but there are many more who are most careless.

They will not be so careless with Ma or Pa along and its a pretty good law that requires them to keep the car at home when either Ma or Pa can't accompany them.

SPOILED

Babe Ruth has fallen a victim of too much prosperity.

The greatest puncher of home runs has gotten too big for the game and this is a most serious situation. When a man gets it in his head that he is too big to conform to the rules and regulations laid down for the whole team, he is entirely too big for the game and should be suspended indefinitely or required to stay out until such a time as he feels that he is ready to do the right thing.

Judge Landis' fine and suspension does not seem to have done him the least bit of good but Ban Johnson seems to have determined to let the Bimbo know that he is not the whole show.

Ruth is the idol of thousands of baseball fans but his continued dampfool stunts will kill him as dead as Cock Robin.

Auto drivers should bear in mind that it is against the law to drive with cut-out open and they should also remember that citizens along East Second street are entitled to some restful sleep. To be suddenly awakened about 1:30 in the morning thinking that you are at the front facing a machine gun nest only to learn that some half soured and less than half-witted auto driver is splitting the street open returning from a dance is no pleasant feeling even if it is a relief to know that your first impression was only a nightmare.

Brother Hiram Duley's age is beginning to tell on him. He is living in the past. In most every issue of his good paper he makes some reference to Maysville Murder juice. If we are to take the news columns of his own paper for it, we would conclude that more hooch is being made in his own county these days than even in the wilds of Lewis or Carter.

UNCLE TED'S

BED-TIME STORIES.

"That's just what I told Freddie a long time ago," said Jack. "When the Republicans came in and President Harding took charge in March, 1921, Liberty Bonds were way down and I tried to get him to save his pennies and buy one because I know that all the onense at Washington was over and they would go up sooner or later."

"Yes, but what did you do?" asked Ruth.
"Well, since you want to know, I sold my bicycle, it was all old anyway, some of dimes of Uncle Ted's, a lot of newspapers and old junk I found all down in the cellar and in the attic. I put that with what I had in my little bank and I had enough to buy a fifty dollar bond. But it didn't cost me fifty dollars but a whole lot less and NOW its worth fifty dollars. The banks say so."

"And the bank is right," said Uncle Ted, appearing on the scene. "I was wondering what had become of those old dimes of mine. I was going to try and have two of them made into one spare time, but since you invested your money with so much sense I'll forgive you this time."

"Jack," continued Uncle Ted, "it wouldn't be a bad idea for everyone to remember what you have said. When the Republicans took charge of our government at Washington, some bonds were selling at 85 cents on the dollar and today every issue is selling for its full value and more. That means that in 16 months of Republican administration there has been an increase of more than $2,000,000,000 in the value of these government securities."

"While we are talking about that, did you know that in March, 1921, when President Harding and the Republican party came back into power there was a national debt of $23,000,000,000? And the interest on this each year AMOUNTED TO MORE THAN $1,000,000,000! Why, kiddies, in 1913, when the Democrats came into power they found the Republicans had left a debt that was less than the interest on the debt left by the Democrats in 1921! In other words, the debt left by the Democrats was 2,300 PER CENT. MORE THAN THE DEBT LEFT BY THE REPUBLICANS. Of course most of the debt left by the Democrats was due to the war but much of it was due to absolute waste! The part of this story that makes you feel good is that within 16 months of Republican administration, that debt has been cut down by $700,000,000."

"I hadn't intended to make a story of this but I might as well point out some of the other things accomplished in those 16 months. From some of the newspaper articles and from some statements of those not too friendly to President Harding and his helpers, you might think the present administration was spending money like water to run the government. But facts and figures do not lie, and those really interested will find that the Democrats spent $5,538,040,689 to run the government during the last year they were in power."

"President Harding has been in the White House more than a year," spoke up Jack, "and what has he spent?"

"The first fiscal year of the Harding administration ends June 30 and the cost for that year WILL NOT BE MORE THAN $3,922,372,030 which means a saving of $1,600,000,000 in the expenses of running our government."

"How have they been able to save so much?" asked Ruth.

"As I have told you before, Ruth, most of the saving has been due to the budget system created by Congress in special session and put into effect by President Harding with General Dawes at its head. General Dawes realized that he was put into that work really to save money, and although some departments of the government were not so enthusiastic about having their spending money cut, he went right ahead and proved that there were many places where money could be saved in big lumps."

"You know, too, that a Republican Congress in 1921, while Woodrow Wilson was still in the White House, passed a budget law and it was VETOED BY MR. WILSON."

"Tell us again something about what has been done to lower our tax-

The first lot of peaches from the Brown county (Ohio) orchards arrived in Maysville this week and were retailed at $1.50 per bushel. Reports are that the Ohio orchards are loaded this year with peaches. This appears to be the best fruit year in the last quarter century.

A curious feature of the theaters in Australian cities is that they are mostly all equipped with billiard-rooms.

"Kiddies, when anyone talks of unemployment remember this. That in March, 1921, there were about 5,000,000 people out of work! As a result of the activities of the Harding administration there is no reason today for any man being out of work if he really wants work. Practically lines of business, farms, and industries employing skilled and unskilled labor are advertising for help. In other words, except where strikes are in effect, the unemployment situation no longer exists."

"And remember, too, this administration has not and does not intend to get mixed up with European politics. President Harding refused to have anything to do with the meeting at the Hague. We showed that we were sincere in wanting peace last November when the nations were called to Washington and an agreement was reached on naval armaments. This agreement means a relief of $200,000,000 a year from taxes imposed to build and maintain costly ships. We must not forget that it was all the result of study and thought on the part of President Harding and those men whom he chose as his cabinet advisers."

SECOND CROP OF SPUDS

WILL BE PLANTED 800N.

Lexington, Ky. — The planting of Kentucky's second crop of potatoes will begin about July 10 and continue throughout the month, according to A. J. Olney, potato specialist at the College of Agriculture. The Bull Moose, Gren Mountain and Rural Russett varieties, such as Irish Cobbler and Early Ohio, can be planted as late as August 1 or even later if grown for seed, he said.

Planting the spuds on a piece of soil that has not grown potatoes for two or three years has been found to be a good practice in increasing the average yield. This lessens the possibility of the potatoes becoming scabby. It is advisable to plow the land and do the initial harrowing at least two weeks before planting time.

In order to allow the tubers to get into growing conditions, the seed should be taken off storage about two weeks before planting. The best seed pieces are medium sized and free from scurf and scab. Soaking the seed for from one and one-half to two hours before it is cut in a solution made of four ounces of corrosive sublimate and 30 gallons of water mixed in anything but a metal container, is an extra precaution against these diseases. Care is necessary in handling the solution as corrosive sublimate is a deadly poison.

After the seed is dried, it should be cut into blocky pieces having one or two strong eyes and as much potato with them as possible. In planting, it is well to remember that freshly manured ground is apt to encourage the growth of scab.

Tests have shown that it is best to drop on seed piece in a place and to space the pieces about ten to 14 inches apart. From the time that the plants first come through until the tops cover the ground, they should be given thorough cultivation.

Coated tongue, bad breath, headaches, pimples, bad blood are nature's danger signals. HOLLI'STER'S ROCKY MOUNTAIN TEA removes the cause by carrying off the poisons from the liver, kidneys and bowels. Endorsed by women everywhere. J. J. Wood & Son. T&TJune.

The first lot of peaches from the Brown county (Ohio) orchards arrived in Maysville this week and were retailed at $1.50 per bushel. Reports are that the Ohio orchards are loaded this year with peaches. This appears to be the best fruit year in the last quarter century.

A curious feature of the theaters in Australian cities is that they are mostly all equipped with billiard-rooms.

"Kiddies, when anyone talks of unemployment remember this. That in March, 1921, there were about 5,000,000 people out of work! As a result of the activities of the Harding administration there is no reason today for any man being out of work if he really wants work. Practically lines of business, farms, and industries employing skilled and unskilled labor are advertising for help. In other words, except where strikes are in effect, the unemployment situation no longer exists."

"And remember, too, this administration has not and does not intend to get mixed up with European politics. President Harding refused to have anything to do with the meeting at the Hague. We showed that we were sincere in wanting peace last November when the nations were called to Washington and an agreement was reached on naval armaments. This agreement means a relief of $200,000,000 a year from taxes imposed to build and maintain costly ships. We must not forget that it was all the result of study and thought on the part of President Harding and those men whom he chose as his cabinet advisers."

SECOND CROP OF SPUDS

WILL BE PLANTED 800N.

Lexington, Ky. — The planting of Kentucky's second crop of potatoes will begin about July 10 and continue throughout the month, according to A. J. Olney, potato specialist at the College of Agriculture. The Bull Moose, Gren Mountain and Rural Russett varieties, such as Irish Cobbler and Early Ohio, can be planted as late as August 1 or even later if grown for seed, he said.

Planting the spuds on a piece of soil that has not grown potatoes for two or three years has been found to be a good practice in increasing the average yield. This lessens the possibility of the potatoes becoming scabby. It is advisable to plow the land and do the initial harrowing at least two weeks before planting time.

In order to allow the tubers to get into growing conditions, the seed should be taken off storage about two weeks before planting. The best seed pieces are medium sized and free from scurf and scab. Soaking the seed for from one and one-half to two hours before it is cut in a solution made of four ounces of corrosive sublimate and 30 gallons of water mixed in anything but a metal container, is an extra precaution against these diseases. Care is necessary in handling the solution as corrosive sublimate is a deadly poison.

After the seed is dried, it should be cut into blocky pieces having one or two strong eyes and as much potato with them as possible. In planting, it is well to remember that freshly manured ground is apt to encourage the growth of scab.

Tests have shown that it is best to drop on seed piece in a place and to space the pieces about ten to 14 inches apart. From the time that the plants first come through until the tops cover the ground, they should be given thorough cultivation.

New York Letter

New York. — The buried treasure fever is sweeping the world again as it did two generations ago. Another crew of adventurers has sailed from New York all outfitted to bring back fortunes in Spanish doubloons. A typical "long, low, rakish craft" steamed out with five men aboard, all from New York and New Jersey, bound for a little unnamed island off the coast of Nova Scotia, where they expect to dig up $50,000,000 in doubloons, pieces of eight, old English loons, pieces of eight, old English crowns, and bullion. They carry maps and charts and they plan to dig up the buried treasure of a South-American county, which hid it on the island during one of their many wars. They are no hot-blooded youths who have set off on this adventure, the leader of the party being James R. Cameron, 69 years old, of Elizabeth, N. J.

Now the scientists tell us about the dangers of air — not for transportation purposes but for eating! New York dieticians and chemists are lauding the work done by Prof. W. Paul Heath, food scientist of Chicago, who has turned his scientific discoveries to the very practical fields of bread, butter and ice cream. "Heathized" bread is the answer to many food problems, they explain, because those nice aperatures in the dough are not caused by air or oxygen but by carbon dioxide, which is good for our digestion, while air is not. Furthermore, ordinary bread is decayed by air or oxygen while "heathized" bread can not decay and remains fresh for ages. Prof. Heath points out the well known phenomena of canned fruit being spoiled by a defective rubber ring allowing the air to get into it, and the unpleasant way in which an apple turns brown when you have once bitten a hole in its protective skin and let the air at it. Air destroys those much-lauded creatures — vitamins they tell us, and the Depora-ment of Agriculture in Washington is joining in the anti-air chorus by pointing out the mischief caused by little air bubbles in butter. Nature employs carbon dioxide, instead of air, in her own products, and man is warned to do likewise.

The saddest thing about the fire at the Little Hungary restaurant, down in East Houston street the other night, was the destruction in the flames of the chair in which the late Theodore Roosevelt used to sit, when as Police Commissioner of this city, he ate many years there. It was one of the points of pride and interest of the whole East Side.

Immediately after the recent convention of the music trade in this city, the following advertisement appeared in a magazine published here: "You can produce most wonderful, soft, sweet music from any common carpenter's saw with a violin bow or soft hammer. No musical ability required — you need not know one note from another. I will give you all the secrets an dummies I have learned in my ten years' success as a saw musician — secrets never before revealed and unknown to other musical entertainers."

FORTOISE PASSING THE CENTURY MARK.

While engaged at work on his farm Newton Young discovered a land tortoise with the name W. Young cut on it and the date of 1822. The tortoise was rather dark in color and had a small portion of the edge of its shell crushed, but the name and date could be plainly seen. The name is supposed to be that of William Young, an early settler of this county. — West Union (O.) Defender.

MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS

Read This Letter from Mrs. W. S. Hughes

Greenville, Del. — "I was under the impression that my eldest daughter had some internal trouble as ever since the first time her sickness appeared she had to go to bed and even had to quit school once for a week. I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound myself so I gave it to her and she has received great benefit from it. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish, as I cannot say too much about what your medicine has done for me and for my daughter." — Mrs. Wm. S. HUGHES, Greenville, Delaware.

Mothers and oftentimes grandmothers have taken and have learned the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So they recommend the medicine to others.

The best test of any medicine is what it has done for others. For nearly fifty years we have published letters from mothers, daughters, and women, young and old, recommending the Vegetable Compound. They know what it did for them and are glad to tell others. In your own neighborhood are women who know of its great value.

Mothers—daughters, why not try it?

HONEY PHILOSOPHY FOR 1922.

Once a barber asked his customer if he wanted a close shave or not. Then he set to work and said: "How's the soap?" "Finest I ever tasted", spluttered the man in the chair, and the fight was on. Come to think of it, we can all have the best barber in the world if we want. We can pick the fellow who won't tweak our noses, a careful chap that won't stick his thumbs in our eyes, who will use just the amount of bay rum we like, powder us off to a nicety and turn us out without a kick in the world. We can shave ourselves. Good old self is a wonderful bird when you want things done right.

STAMP ACT TO BE TRIED.

Louisville, Ky., June 26. —The constitutionality of the McCaw anti-trading stamp act passed by the 1922 Kentucky General Assembly will be at issue Tuesday in Jefferson circuit court before Judge Lafon Allen. An effort will be made by the trading stamp companies to enjoin the Jefferson county authorities from enforcing the law, which became effective June 13, and the penal sections, of which, unless stayed by court writ, may be applied 30 days from that date by which time all outstanding stamps are ordered to have been redeemed and the business wound up.

MATT ROGERS IS FOUND DEAD ON FARM.

Winchester, Ky., June 26. — Matt Rogers, 57, a farmer, was found dead in a back lot of W. M. Stokely's farm near Dodge, this county, at 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening by the family of W. M. Stokely, it became known today.

Rogers' face had been considerably disfigured by hogs. It is believed Rogers' leg was broken when he was thrown by a pony, as the animal with a bridle on was found nearby.

The burial was held at 11 o'clock this morning in the Winchester cemetery. Rogers is survived by his wife.

TRUCE IS SOUGHT.

Washington, June 27. — With the nation's coal reserves rapidly dwindling the mine strike situation was placed before President Harding's cabinet today.

The president, it was learned, has a new plan for ending the walkout. Final details were expected to be worked out at the cabinet meeting.

SOVIET VICTORY.

The Hague, June 27. — Russia won the opening clash of The Hague conference today.

Over French protests the soviet delegation carried its point that credits for Russia must be the first thing discussed at the parley. The sub-commission on credits was to meet with the Bolshevik delegation today.

The French had asserted they would not discuss credits until Litvinoff, head of the soviet emissaries, agreed to allied demands regarding debts and private property.

HUSBAND IS SLAYER.

Toledo, Ohio, June 27. — Because, it is alleged, his wife insisted on keeping the friendship of Ralph W. Beckett in spite of his protests, George W. Schaeffer is in jail at Bowling Green today, charged with killing Beckett in a pistol battle last night.

Schaeffer surrendered to Wood county officials.

IN NEW DANGER.

Herrin, Ill., June 27. — Guards were thrown today around the hospital where 12 survivors of the Lester massacre are recovering from injuries.

Reports that wounded men were in danger of death have been received by authorities. It was learned an attempt was made Saturday to take one of the men from the hospital.
